

INTERCITY RELAY LATEST IDEA FOR FEDERAL GAMES

All-Washington vs. All-Baltimore—Two More Outsiders.

An intercity one-mile relay race between teams representing Baltimore and Washington is the latest feature added to the program of the Federal Indoor Games, to be held in Convention Hall on February 15.

Although intercity races have been run in Philadelphia and New York for several years, this will be the first event between quarters representing the Orle City and the Capital. The teams will be made up of runners who are residents of each city, regardless of the club, college, or school of which they may be members, and the four fastest men will be chosen. The work of the quarter-milers in the early games will be closely watched, and the form which they show then will largely determine the choice. There are enough speedy 400-meters in the local organizations to form two good one-mile relay teams and the selection of the fastest four will be a difficult job. Picking the Orle contingent will be just as hard a task.

Penn Charter and Mercersburg.
That there is greater interest than ever among school boys in track athletics, and that the Federal games will have a larger and more representative list of entries, is evident from the number of inquiries received by Manager Stuart from managers of school teams, especially of out-of-town institutions. Penn Charter School of Philadelphia and Mercersburg Academy, are the schools which have most recently indicated that they will be represented. Penn Charter and Mercersburg are leaders in scholastic athletics in the East, and if they send enough men will add greater interest and uncertainty to the contest for the Pennsylvania alumni trophy.

"It looks as if the Central High School, which won last year's trophy and championship so handsomely, will be pushed to the limit to capture this year's cup. The Mercersburg athletes are coached by Kraenzlein, the world's record-holder in the high and low hurdles, and it was this school which produced Tait, the young giant Cornell freshman, who last year made a new world's record of 36 feet for the 12-pound hammer. Penn Charter, coached by Al Sharpe, the old Yale football star, was the school which sent Vetterlein and Tenney to Princeton and Rogers to Cornell. The last was runner-up to Taylor when he broke the intercollegiate quarter-mile record last year.

Country School Challenge.
The Country School for Boys, of Baltimore, has challenged Episcopal High School and Woodberry Forest School to a junior relay race at 500 yards, and it is likely that both these teams will accept. Manager Simpson of the Country School for Boys, is a Washington boy and the victory of his team against these same schools last year was one of the most popular triumphs of the night.

The management of the Federal Games will this year give handsome silver and bronze plaques to members of winning relay teams, instead of the customary medals, which will be awarded for first, second, and third places in the individual events. These plaques consist of sterling silver and solid bronze plates, with raised figures of athletes and laurel wreaths, the plates to be mounted on solid oak blocks about a foot square. The plaques will be made to hang on the wall, or for use as table or desk ornaments.

Entries for the Federal Games will close on February 7, with W. G. Stuart, 709 Fourteenth street northwest.

TWO OF A KIND.

A well-known clubman in New York likes nothing better than to hunt "big game" in British Columbia. During the last expedition to that region he was camped with a friend from Minnesota. Toward morning he awoke shivering with cold. The fire was very low. His companion was fast asleep.

"It isn't nice to get out of a warm blanket to roll frosty logs to the fire, so the wily New Yorker gave his friend a kick and pretended to be asleep. There was no response, and presently the man from New York tried another kick.

"At this the wily New Yorker broke into a laugh and said: 'I did the same thing twenty minutes ago,' he explained, 'and that's how you came to wake.'"

Then, of course, both turned out to build a fire.—Lippincott's Magazine.

NO SCOTCH.

A short time ago there was started a movement to have the kilts of a certain one of the British "Highland" regiments discarded in favor of ordinary trousers. It was objected that the men would be disgraced in the eyes of the enemy, and the colonel gave orders that a census of the regiment be taken, in order to ascertain the wishes of the men themselves. The colonel is a descendant of a long line of Scotch lairds and strives earnestly to uphold the old traditions.

The sergeant who took the census of the regiment finally appeared with his report.

"All the men, with the exception of three, are in favor of the change, sir," he said.

"Indeed?" the colonel said. "Tell me the names of these three clausen.

"They are, sir," he said, "Patrick Doonan, Hans Steinbrenner, and Moser Rosenstein."

BREAKING HIS HEART.

President Manuel Amador, of Panama, was reviewing the wonders of Coney Island.

"A remarkable place," he said to a reporter. "I shall never forget it. I am reminded of a joke they are telling about a Cuban millionaire.

"An unfortunate man obtained access to this millionaire and depicted his wretched poverty in the most vivid and moving colors. Indeed, so graphic was the visitor's sad narrative that the millionaire was very profoundly affected, and, summoning his servant, he said, with tears in his eyes and a voice trembling with emotion:

"John, put this poor fellow out into the street. He is breaking my heart."

HOURS ARE ADDED FOR NATHAN STRAUS

Generosity of American Philanthropist Pleases the Residents of Heidelberg.

HEIDELBERG, Jan. 11.—The Heidelberg Tagblatt gives the following interesting account of the reception given to Nathan Straus by Her Royal Highness the Dowager Grand Duchess of Baden, the venerable sister of the present Kaiser's grandfather:

"Like the people of Heidelberg, the Grand Ducal Court of Karlsruhe is deeply interested in the laboratory for the pasteurization of milk, established in this town by the famous American philanthropist, Nathan Straus," says the Tagblatt.

"In order to thank him personally and in the name of the Baden people for his generous efforts in behalf of the purification of milk, Her Royal Highness the Dowager Empress Duchess Louise received Mr. Straus in the great audience hall of the Karlsruhe palace."

"We congratulate Mr. Straus on the high honor bestowed upon him, and the Baden people rejoice with us, we are sure, that his generosity is recognized by the highest in the land as well as the people in general."

"Mr. Straus has taken up his temporary abode in our beautiful town, the pasteurization method has become popular with our people, and his laboratory continues to be the rendezvous of physicians and directors of clinics and sanitariums."

"The Tagblatt interviewed from time to time these professional visitors of Mr. Straus, and all state that they had learned a great deal from the famous American. Mr. Straus' mode of sterilization is more effective, simple, cheaper, and more profitable than any other yet tried."

"Of course, Mr. Straus experienced much difficulty in introducing his method. Both in this country and in the United States medical men first balked at accepting advice from a mere layman, protesting vigorously against the invasion of a non-professional into their sacred domain. But Mr. Straus fought for the triumph of his idea with the unshakable courage of the friend of mankind, convinced that the good cause would ultimately triumph."

"Being a thoroughly unselfish man, Nathan Straus asks no thanks for his labors and pecuniary sacrifices. If the world will but follow his advice and adopt his baby-saving methods he will be richly rewarded."

Pretty Servant

Won Count From His Noble Wife

BUDAPEST, Jan. 11.—How Marie Torma, a pretty servant girl, triumphed over Countess Pongracz, married the latter's husband and became a baroness, and how her children were declared heirs to the barony, while the first wife, the countess's, was disinherited, is told in lengthy briefs that have been submitted in the Hungarian courts.

Twenty years ago a Vienna employment agency dispatched to the estate of Baron Gyulay, in Hungary, a good-looking girl as maid of all work. The baron, one of the largest land owners in the country, fell in love with the comely domestic, and as a consequence his aristocratic wife, formerly the Countess Madaia, Pongracz, left the castle and secured a divorce. Thereupon the baron, after embracing the Reformed faith, married his former servant girl, and lived with her happily until a few months ago, when he died.

After the marriage, Emperor Francis Joseph, King of Hungary, legalized the status of Marie's children, and had them recorded as Barons George and Louis Gyulay.

To these sons and his wife Marie, Baron Gyulay left his entire estate, while the children of his first marriage were not recognized at all. As a consequence, Countess Pongracz and her children by Gyulay have commenced suit to upset the testament.

PASTOR COUNTERFEITER: IS GIVEN TWO YEARS

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 11.—Rev. James R. Kaye, of Oak Park, former pastor of the First Presbyterian Church at Lincoln, was found guilty of counterfeiting, in the Federal Court today, and sentenced to two years in the Government penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth, Kas.

Standing before the bar of the court, the minister made a fruitless plea for clemency and said, in spite of the evidence that had been offered against him, he was not guilty.

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio, Jan. 11.—A magnificent banquet, attended by the most prominent jurists and lawyers of Ohio, was given here tonight in celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of Gen. J. Warren Keifer's admission to the bar.

During his half century of practice, General Keifer has been very much in the public eye, having served in the civil war and in the National Congress, where he is today. He served one term as Speaker of the House of Representatives.

MINES OF SHEBA CAUSE OF CLASH

Explorers Wrangle Over Treasure in "Land of Ophir."

BERLIN, Jan. 11.—The Biblical "Land of Ophir," where the Queen of Sheba had her famous gold mines, is the subject of a heated controversy between two eminent German explorers. Dr. Carl Peters, formerly governor of German East Africa, has declared in lectures that the mines were situated on the Zambesi River, while another great authority on the geography of Africa, Baron von Falkenberg, strenuously opposes this view and places the Land of Ophir in Abyssinia.

Dr. Peters bases his opinion on his own discoveries in East Central Africa, and Baron von Falkenberg relies on the evidence of the Bible as indicating the approximate site of the ancient gold mines. He points out that King Solomon, in co-operation with the King of the Phoenicians, fitted out a colonizing expedition for Africa, the known portion of which continent was then called "Ophir," or "Ofr," and was regarded as the land of gold.

This is confirmed today by the presence of vestiges of Phoenician colonies in many parts of Africa. Baron von Falkenberg is of opinion that the rich gold deposits then known were in the Habesch, or Sheba, district, the modern Abyssinia.

The discussion is bound to stimulate German enterprise in the Sudan, where German pioneers have been very active in the past. Dr. Peters' theory, on the other hand, is declared by the baron to have been "set up in the interests of the English," who have great influence and power in the Zambesi region. Somewhere in that region was laid the scene of Rider Haggard's romance, "King Solomon's Mines."

Economy Wave Hits Congress Funerals; Wants 'Em Cheaper

The wave of economy which has struck the members of Congress this session reached its climax yesterday when a move was made to cut down on the frills of their own funerals, should there be any soon.

Representative Hughes of West Virginia introduced a bill to limit the expenditure for the expenses of the funeral of a member of the House of Representatives to $1,000. It is estimated that in some cases $25,000 would be spent by the Federal and the State governments as the result of the death of a Representative or Senator. Of this the Federal Government has been paying the bulk.

Hughes may make a speech on the subject that can be used as a campaign document.

EXPELLING BAD HORSEMEN NOT PLEASING TO TAFT

Secretary Taft is having his troubles as the result of the President's horse-manship tests. Of nearly half a hundred officers who have been ordered before retiring boards because of their poor showing in the tests, about thirty have been recommended for dismissal.

The War Secretary is not in sympathy with many of the findings, particularly those affecting officers engaged on river and harbor work who, while experiencing trouble on horses, stand unusually high on the efficiency record of the department.

LEACH HAS LATE TALK WITH GARRY HERRMANN

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Jan. 11.—President Herrmann, of the Reds, late tonight got into long distance telephone communion with Tommy Leach, of the Pirates, who is in Cleveland.

This followed the receipt of word by Herrmann from Barney Dreyfus, that Manager Fred Clarke, of Pittsburgh, to whom the matter had been referred by Dreyfus, had consented to the deal whereby Leach was to be traded and become manager of the Reds. Player Kane and other considerations will probably be transferred to Pittsburgh for Leach. Leach will probably first come here.

COOLIDGE OUT FOR TAFT:
BIG NEW ENGLAND VICTORY

BOSTON, Jan. 11.—T. Jefferson Coolidge, "Cotton King of Northern New England," and formerly minister to France, is the latest formidable acquisition to the Taft forces in New England. Mr. Coolidge made this statement tonight:

"I am a Taft man in every respect, and my every effort will be directed for Taft for President."

Boston Republicans, who were informed of Coolidge's decision, are in favor of Taft declared that altogether it is the most significant achievement of the Taft forces in this section of the country.

BERLIN FEARS RIOTS MAY BE RENEWED

Extra Precautions to Guard Against Socialist Demonstration.

BERLIN, Jan. 11.—While there is quiet throughout the capital today, the police is not in a quiet mood, and there seems danger of a disturbance at any time. Police in large numbers guard all the strategic points of the city and have orders not to permit any crowds to congregate.

In all the public squares there are squads of police who are charged to prevent a recurrence of the demonstrations of yesterday in favor of manhood suffrage throughout Prussia.

Because of the desire to pacify rather than irritate the masses nearly all of those arrested yesterday were released from custody today. Extra precautions are being taken to prevent demonstrations tomorrow, but it is feared that there will be trouble, as there are twenty-two socialist mass meetings in various parts of the city, and its suburbs scheduled for tomorrow.

The chief of police has given orders that these must be suppressed, and if his repressive measures are carried out there will probably be a clash between the populace and the authorities.

At the Socialist headquarters the feeling toward the government is hostile. Herr Hebel and other of the Socialist leaders contrive the reply of Chancellor Von Buolow, in which he denied manhood suffrage and a secret ballot, as an open defiance of the people.

The Socialist organs predict that while the government may hold the whip hand now, the people will rise in their might and force the demands that are now being denied them.
